

Scot McKay (00:02.217)

All right, gentlemen, this is your main man, Scot McKay coming at you again with another episode of The Mountain Top Podcast. But it's not just another episode of The Mountain Top Podcast. First of all, we got a great topic today, which is what is wrong with men and women nowadays? And that's going to go in all sorts of crazy directions, but it's also not your garden variety episode. I mean, which one is? But today's is extra special because it so happens to be the 500th episode of The Mountain Top Podcast, aka The Chick Whisperer Podcast from way back in the day. Uh, since 2007, we've, uh, done 500 main episodes up to well over a hundred on the Snippets Of... Snippets From The Summit. And I want to thank you guys, you guys, especially you guys who have been there since the beginning. Um, and, sure enough, you guys who just found the show. Without you, there isn't a show. And, uh, I'm just proud of all you guys out there who want to be better men getting better women.

So, uh, it's time we hit this topic with a big heavy hammer. Now 500 is a big number. It's not just 100 or 300 or anything like that. I mean, it's half a thousand and that's significant. And the first guy I thought of to have on as a guest for this show is actually a guy, if you go far back enough, who co-hosted The Chick Whisper with me for the first 10 episodes back in '07,

Steve Williams (01:29.678)
you

Scot McKay (01:30.089)

in the original format and that had been way too long since as he would say, we chopped up game together. He's still at it. I'm still at it. We're a couple of OGs and the O stands for old at this point. In the men's dating advice space still trying to make heads or tails of how to relate to women and do a great job. Steve "The Dean" Williams, how are you doing, man?

Steve Williams (01:36.375)
Yes.

Steve Williams (01:40.342)
OK.

Steve Williams (01:53.806)

Well, first off, congratulations on your 500, man. I mean, you know, yeah. Yeah, oh, yeah, yeah. We've been kicking it. I we've been doing it way before 2007. So, I mean, we've been doing it. Yeah, yeah. Oh, yeah, it's been a long, long time, man. Yeah.

Scot McKay (01:56.391)

Yeah, man. I think you're about 50,000 at this point. You are prolific.

Scot McKay (02:06.217)

Yeah, '06 for X & Y On The Fly for us.

Yeah. You know what? I want to say this. The podcasting world was, was so tight knit back in 2006 that I was a consumer of the podcasts, especially in the niche that I was working in. And one day I got a phone call. It's about 10, 10 30 in the morning and I answer it. And you're like, Hey, is this Scot McKay?

Yeah. I said, yeah. Yeah. And you said, from X & Y On The Fly? I said, yeah. I said, well, he, And he said, well, this is Steve, the Williams, Steve Williams. And I said, The Motherfuckin' Dean! And you just started laughing, right? Cause hell yeah. That's who you were. I already knew who you were. You already knew who I was. You called me, wanted to collaborate. And it went from there. I'll never forget that morning because hell yeah, I knew who you were. And you were like, wow, kind of surprised, but

Steve Williams (02:51.95)

Yeah.

Yes, yes, yes, yes.

Yeah.

Steve Williams (03:04.43)

Appreciate it.

Scot McKay (03:05.34)

Back then, you could sit at the top of the entire self-help category in North America on iTunes. Not with a whole lot of effort. Yeah. You don't want to minimize the accomplishment. But back then, people were really just starting to listen and listen in numbers. And if you were there at the beginning, man, you've got a magic carpet ride, right?

Steve Williams (03:12.383)

yeah, yeah, I too. Yeah, yeah.

Steve Williams (03:21.55)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (03:27.15)

Oh, yeah, yeah. Well, yeah, we can say we old school. We've been doing this thing for way... I mean, remember MySpace, you know? Yeah,

Scot McKay (03:34.415)

Absolutely. Yeah, MySpace. Yeah, that was actually... MySpace was really cool because you could make it move and have music. You could have like your rollout music. Yeah, I remember thinking Facebook was really boring when it started. It would never last.

Steve Williams (03:43.81)

Yeah, a little thick. Yeah, yeah.

Steve Williams (03:50.294)

Yeah, look at it now. Now we're all there. Everything's moving quickly.

Scot McKay (03:52.082)

I know, crazy.

Scot McKay (03:55.965)

Well, whenever you and I got together, first of all, it wasn't only just rock solid facts, you know, in terms of, know, y'all guys used to say, get your crayons out, get your crayons out, gentlemen. Yeah. And, you, should take notes because we were going to spit straight facts, you know? And second of all, it's always funny. It was always humorous. How could it not be?

Steve Williams (04:07.288)

Get your crayons

Steve Williams (04:16.91)

Yes, absolutely. Yeah, you always have fun. Yes, sir. It was always good. Yeah, it was always good because we always we talked about things that young men needed back then and they still need it today. So, you know, still the same thing. Even though, right, even though they're 45, but now we have a new batch of young men that need us more than ever. So, yeah.

Scot McKay (04:24.563)

Talking about human nature, yeah.

Scot McKay (04:33.765)

Even though even now they're 45 instead of 25.

Scot McKay (04:42.823)

Yeah, the world keeps turning. Nothing changes. Actually, a lot has changed. You know, since the time you and I started, there was no social media. There were no smartphones. I mean, there was not an iPhone one yet when you and I started.

Steve Williams (04:45.347)

dust.

Steve Williams (04:56.76)

Yeah, that's true. No Tinder. No Instagram. No OnlyFans. Yeah. Yeah.

Scot McKay (04:58.331)

No Tinder. Right. So certainly no OnlyFans. Right. Which I want to Which I want to get to because I think that's definitely something that's the that's wrong with women nowadays and men. But man, it just seems like that we went through the whole toxic masculinity bit and the #MeToo movement. And as if it weren't already bad enough with men being afraid of women.

Steve Williams (05:19.79)

Thank

Steve Williams (05:26.679)

Yes.

Scot McKay (05:27.107)

women don't understand that they're like I'm just a girl. Then it became I don't want to bother her because she don't want to hear from me anyway because women can't stand men to to I'm not going to talk to her because it's dangerous out there I could get arrested. What's up with all that man what happened to us?

Steve Williams (05:35.222)

Yes.

Steve Williams (05:42.466)

Yeah, yeah, yeah.

Steve Williams (05:47.064)

Well, I don't think it's a thing of what happened to us. I think it was more of a thing of, you gotta look, okay, so you know, you and I, we come from this, I mean, we were not a part of it, but we came through when The Seduction Community hit, you know, you and I, I where there was...

Scot McKay (06:03.582)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (06:05.58)

Double Your Dating and all these things that were. So these young men were trying to transition. And then all of a sudden, once I guess YouTube started to hit off or, know, people just pivoted to something else. And I think I think they went away from manhood and they just went and they just started looking at problems, you know, like like issues, you know, versus, you know, you and I.

You know, we we teach we we teach mindset. We teach we teach itself, you know, and you can't learn yourself when all you're doing is complaining. And I don't want to say people complain because I don't want to piss anyone off. But I'll say it's... Well, they do. But it's it's that it seems like they want to be heard, but nobody's listening. So then they get frustrated because they're saying, you know what? I want to be heard. I need someone to hear me. But women don't want to hear you.

Scot McKay (06:44.413)

They do,

Steve Williams (06:59.794)

And then sometimes they have problems themselves with women, dating, relationships, issues. It's different. For us, again, Scot for us, we're different because we came from a time where there were pay phones. You'd always say we're from the 1900s when everything was black and white. We had to go up to women. We had to talk to women. They were pay phones. You remember pen pals and...

All that other stuff. Blockbuster, you remember all that good stuff. So these young men, they don't have that anymore. They have a microwave mentality because, you know, I don't have my phone with me. Where's my phone? Everything they have is on their phone. You know, for us, if we wanted to go to get a video, we would go to Circuit City. If we wanted supplies, we would go to an auto mechanic store. You know, I mean, a supply store. All these these young men have everything on their phone. I everything that we had to search for, they have just access on their phone.

So they can just get it. mean, if I'm hungry, DoorDash. If I want to forget about taxicabs, Uber, Lyft, you know. So these young men have a different perspective of the world and because of that perspective, they assume that dating is hard. You know what I mean? They think relationships are hard. I mean, look at you. You've been married for a long... Congratulations! Hey everybody. Yeah, I know this is going be a little bit a week later, but this is anniversary. Shout out to my boy. Congratulations on that.

A lot of young men, 20 years, shout out to you, but they don't understand that relationships aren't hard. What's hard is being careful of who we listen to. It's information, because you you remember there was a time when the internet, when it first started for us, it was on the internet, it was true. know, if it's on the internet, it's real. You know, that's what we used to think. I mean, Yeah, exactly. And

20 years today, I met Emily.

Scot McKay (08:43.123)

Wikipedia was trustworthy.

Steve Williams (08:47.06)

everything on the on the internet is not good information because it ties in to a certain part of a victimhood of a lot of young men who feel like you know what again nobody's listening to me the world is hard the world is tough but it's not it's not that it's not that case.

Scot McKay (09:02.653)

Yeah.

Scot McKay (09:06.599)

Yeah, man. So much just solid gold in everything you just said. You know, you can watch watch these classic TV shows. I say classic because they're like from the year 2000, right? If you see a 2000 car, you know, you must be in a car show nowadays. You watch shows like The Wire, you know, and my daughter will come in and go, why are they on phones like in their neighborhood? Can't they just like pick up their cell phone and call people? I mean, what's...

Steve Williams (09:16.6)

Yeah, I know Netflix.

Steve Williams (09:22.658)

Yeah.

Yes, yeah.

Scot McKay (09:35.37)

Like, they don't even know what a pay phone is. You know what I mean? And my wife and I will even look at each other and go, man, it just must be really rough having to break a burner every time you want to run a, you know, run something out there. But, you know, without pay phones, it's a lot easier to do your organized crime in your neighborhood anymore. But I mean, it's it's such a it's such a throwback now to even see a pay phone. You talked about the DoorDash culture.

Steve Williams (09:37.452)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (09:46.176)

Mm-hmm.

Steve Williams (09:52.75)

Yes.

Scot McKay (10:04.221)

These mofos out there don't ever go to the bank or the post office anymore. God, no, that's like so 1995. Now they don't even go to the grocery store. They don't even go pick up something to eat. It comes right to their house. They sit on their couch all day playing video games or on their huge screen TV, watching someone else have an adventure somewhere. And they wonder why they're not meeting any women. What the heck's wrong with these guys? And then like you said, playing video games. Bye.

Steve Williams (10:25.976)

Scot McKay (10:32.617)

brilliantly. And I've echoed this before on the show as flawed as the pickup artist community was, and we can say, you know, what the heck's wrong with men for even come up with that whole thing for six or eight years or however long it lasted. But it went from dating coaches or dating experts actually giving solid, actionable advice you could use to get better with women to I'm just going to piss you off so hard that you stay addicted.

Steve Williams (10:43.95)

Right, right.

Scot McKay (11:00.613)

Or I'm going to feed your disease of not standing the bitches so much that you stay addicted. And I'll just, Hey, guess what? I'll just live off. I'll live off the ad revenue on YouTube. That's not advice. That's not coaching. That's poisonous. But people don't care anymore. It just seems like a lot of that in general. You see that with the media, they'll give these inflamed headlines that divide people. You know, black, white, male, female, it doesn't matter.

Steve Williams (11:11.736)
Mm-hmm.

Steve Williams (11:16.13)
yeah.

Scot McKay (11:29.007)
Nowadays politics is the religion. I don't want to get into it, but I mean, what they'll do is they'll give you a headline that's designed to piss you off. And, then, you know, the real actual information, if there is any is behind a paywall. And of course, all this does is keep you addicted to your smartphone. As we're, as we're recording this, the number one headline on both CNN and Fox who are at odds with each other is freaking Bad Bunny's halftime performance

Steve Williams (11:32.269)
Yeah.

Scot McKay (11:59.4)
at a football game. Who cares? I had someone on Facebook and they said, if you don't care about Bad Bunny's halftime performance, then, you know, there's something wrong with you need to head check your morals. I go, no, there's something wrong with you if you don't have anything better to do on a Wednesday, but talk about a halftime entertainment piece on Sunday. But what happens is that's what happens.

I know that sounds like a department of redundancy department, but nevermind. What happens indeed is we get told what to believe. We get told what to think's important, and it rarely is all it does is drive someone else's revenue or someone else's likes or their viewers and it's messed up and it is it. it's keeping us from going out in the real world and actually hanging out with each other, men and women. Yeah.

Steve Williams (12:41.454)
Yeah.

Steve Williams (12:51.276)
Yeah, it's like an indoctrination for lot of these young men. They've never had, again, if you noticed, okay, one thing about us, like we say, we're OGs. So if people understand is that the real one's always gonna stay to the top because they never gonna sway. I mean, you and that, that's our wheelhouse. We teach men. So we have been through everything, seduction, pickup, red pill, manosphere, going your own way, looks maxing, drizzle, drizzle, riz, riz, 100 men versus a bunny rabbit and whatever they come up with next we've we've we've been through it all and if you notice everybody who has come they've gone. I mean if you look at all the seduction people they're gone they've pivoted somewhere else. Yeah, or married with kids. Right, the ones that say don't you can't get married i can't get married or don't get married they're they're off now married or something else now now if you notice now usually married with kids.

Steve Williams (13:43.308)

the young ones that are teaching or complaining about women and stuff. Now, like you're saying, they're going political because the thing is they're running out of content. And that's the thing about you and I. We can't run out of content because this is what we do. This is our wheelhouse. This is what we've always... We've, from from from the moment we plugged in our 56K modem to our our wall on our telephone people. That's how old we are to get AOL dot com or Yahoo chat or whatever to get.

Scot McKay (14:11.684)

You were on MP3.com doing shows.

Steve Williams (14:13.27)

Yeah, MP3.com. Yeah. yeah. MP3.com. Yeah. Yeah. We have done it. Yeah, again, we have done it all, but we have never, ever swayed from what we were doing. We've gone through all the times where, again, we would go this way and, you know, pick up would take off because, again, it gave young men a quick fix to a bigger problem, you know, and so a lot of people gravitated toward that, but we, Scot, you and I,

We kept it going and then pickup fell off. We kept it going and then then the YouTube came and we kept it going. Then Red Pill comes in. We kept it going and then be on your purpose. Don't jerk off and all these other things. So the thing is these young men, they have to understand that the real ones are always going to keep going. We Scot, you and I are going to keep going no matter what is around that corner in 2030 or 2035. We're going to keep it going because that's the thing about relationships.

You have a great relationship with yourself. That's why you have a great relationship with your wife. I have a great relationship with myself. That's why I have a great relationship. Again, because see, on the street, we call that married to the game. You see what saying? A lot of young men don't realize that it's not about tricks and gimmicks, lies, manipulation, deceiving, deception, pick up lines, gimmicks, and all the other stuff. Never, right, but for young men,

Scot McKay (15:16.296)

It's true.

Scot McKay (15:33.061)

never has been.

Steve Williams (15:37.206)

because TV forces them, you know, they indoctrinate them with women all the time. If you look at a soda ad, a drink ad, they always place a product placement. They'll place a woman there in that place. Now, Scot, I think you and I, I think we have been to several places where these people take advantage of young men. You know what I mean? They take advantage of their who they are there. And again, Scot and I have been around a long time. There were places where we get invited to go to places where they have marketing strategies back then. And we're talking about way back then, where they were saying, OK, look, we'll put a green screen up, Scot.

We'll put a woman in a fake library and put a guy next to the woman and pretend they meet each other to get the guy to think that he's actually talking to the woman. And nowadays what they're doing is they're walking around with hired models going up to the women saying, hey, how you doing? And the woman like rubs their face and like, wow, that's, that's pickup. That's how you get women. No, that's how you talk to women. It's not even talking to women because the thing is no one talks about the cameraman. That's like angled like to the side. I mean, no one, no one really thinks it out. You know what I Scot?

And that's the thing about

Scot McKay (16:43.142)

Yeah, there was another person there involved. How did we get this shot? Nobody even thinks like that.

Steve Williams (16:46.19)

Right, that's what no one thinks about the shot or the express written consent. They don't think about that. You can't just walk up randomly and show somebody's likeness on the Internet without their express written consent. And I think that's part of the problem. But see young men, they want women. Sometimes they want not even women. They want a relationship so bad because maybe they didn't have one with their father. Maybe they didn't want to have one with their parents or maybe they were the ones in high school that was shunned from the world. So they're trying to look for their place in the world. And that's why, again, it's like a cult mentality. It's like, you know, I'm at the head, so I'm going to indoctrinate you. You know, they tell you like frames are seals and dolphins are ducks. And this is that. And that's what confuses these young men, because they want to, they want women so bad and they want to be seen so bad that they don't understand what you and I are doing, is we're showing you the essence and the core of who you are so you can have an understanding of who you are in this world or in the reality that you're in, man.

Scot McKay (17:53.639)

I'll tell you what, from the minute we got into this, deserve what you want was a foreign concept. It's like, no man, I just, I just need this. Get, give this to me. How do I trick this woman into spreading her legs? Meanwhile, the woman's like, how do I trick this guy into buying me stuff and handing over, you know, handing over his credit card? And that has only gotten worse. We talk about transactional relationships all the time. I'm not so sure

Steve Williams (18:19.34)

Yeah.

Scot McKay (18:23.42)

people actually want a relationship anymore. They just want stuff. So, you know, if I get a chick it's because I'm horny. But, you know, you better be on birth control because I don't want you to get pregnant. And if you get any STD, we get any STDs out of this, it's all your fault. Everything's everybody else's fault. Nobody has any agency. And like you said, eloquently, nobody has the character anymore. So you can have good character, bad character. You know, you can

Steve Williams (18:38.22)

Yes. Yes.

Steve Williams (18:46.808)

Yes.

Scot McKay (18:51.228)

be a psychopath and think it's funny to hurt people. And you could also have no character, which means you never got around to developing who the hell you are and what you believe. And then you wonder why women don't show up in your life and choose you when you choose them? Because they don't even know who the hell you are. Cause you don't know who the hell you are.

Steve Williams (18:53.944)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (19:08.434)

You know what, Scot, I always I was asking this in one of my live shows the other day. I was saying that like if you don't like yourself, how can you ask a woman to like you? If you don't love yourself, how can you ask for love? If you don't respect yourself, how can you ask for respect? And so many young men don't understand you can't. We think that one of the biggest problems that we have with young men today are three... I call three three of the worst things. Assuming, judging and expectation. And if for some odd reason these young men feel like they

Scot McKay (19:21.948)

That's right.

Steve Williams (19:38.33)

deserve a woman versus realizing they need to learn how to deserve themselves. They're too busy caught up in believing in fear, rejection. They're too busy caught up in a quick gimmick. Now listen, Scot, I will never knock young men because I used to watch porn too and I still watch porn. I'm 54 years old. I ain't gonna lie. I still watch. I admit that. But what I'm saying is that life is not porn. know, a lot of young men feel like, okay,

I don't know anything about you. Let's go back to my place. How you doing? My name is Fred. Can I send you a dick pic or a penis picture? How you doing? Can I see your body? And they think because they watch a lot of, know, lot of, cause again, they grab their phone, they watch a lot of that stuff. And what it does to their mind is it indoctrinates them to think that just because a woman is wearing something, scantily clad that she's easy or a woman that has a nice purse on that she is a gold digger, you know, they always are labeling these women versus taking the time to allow those women to move for them instead of them move for the YouTuber that like you say gets the clicks, you know, it's like a reaction. Okay, this one. Okay. Here's a woman that says, well, a man needs to take me to Red Lobster. see, I told you all the women in the world are bad because it's. Yeah, yeah, whatever. So not Red Lobster, Ruth's Chris, I'm sorry, Ruth, some kind of fancy restaurant where she's like, I need lobster or something. It was like, see, guys, I told you these women are bad. So then what they're doing, Scot, is just the news. It's if they take a moment, look at the news is the same thing. They they always.

Scot McKay (20:59.72)

We're setting the bar that high, huh? Red lobster. Yeah.

haha

Scot McKay (21:23.356)

Bad news.

Steve Williams (21:24.364)

Yeah, it's just it's bad news. Exactly. And that's where a lot of guys go wrong, man.

Scot McKay (21:29.66)

Man, again, you said so much. First of all, you're talking about if you can't like yourself, you know, how are you supposed to have women like you? A lot of men and women have just decided they can't stand the whole other gender. So women will come to me. This is nothing new. Women will come to us and go, all men are dogs. They only want one thing. They're all jerks. They're all going to cheat on you. Can you find me a nice husband? And the answer is no. I mean, not with that attitude.

Steve Williams (21:38.669)

Yes.

Steve Williams (21:54.872)

No.

Scot McKay (21:56.967)

And yet sometimes these women will be hot stuff, man. They'll be sexy as hell. And they wonder why men want them for sex, then kick them to the curb. I mean, okay, you know, you look great. I'll get you naked, but I'm not going to marry you because you can't freaking stand men. So now men, instead of leading, instead of being the pace setters, we're followers and go, well, if women can't stand us, we're not going to stand them either. And we're going to go our own way. And what do they do? They get preached to by the wrong person,

Steve Williams (22:00.739)

Yes.

Steve Williams (22:04.482)

Yes. Yeah. No. Yeah.

Steve Williams (22:27.032)

Mm-hmm. Yes.

Scot McKay (22:27.368)

by a false god, they become real inward and they find an echo chamber of guys just like them. And even though they're the minority, they think that, well now I found a thousand other guys. This is the way we all think, you know, and then they're going their own way. Men Going Their Own Way. Right? Cause all women are horrible. They're all, you know, they have these, these words they love like solipsistic and hypergamous. And, know, those are the buzzwords that, know, you're in the "in crowd" when you use them.

Steve Williams (22:36.547)

Yes.

Steve Williams (22:41.016)

Yes.

Steve Williams (22:51.606)

god.

Yeah.

Scot McKay (22:58.352)

And I got those guys so riled up with a YouTube video one time, Steve, cause I just simply said, look, if you're Men Going Your Own Way, then go. Why are you still here? Why are you still talking about women all the time? I thought you went your own way. And then they started getting all angry with me because what happens is when guys are complainers, they turn into little bitches and they just want to really get angry and you know, all emotional about it. And, you're still just as obsessed with women.

Steve Williams (23:21.282)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (23:27.342)

But now you've invited yourself to the stage.

Scot McKay (23:28.082)

But now you've resigned yourself to not getting any of them and being angry and drowning in porn. And this is not how human beings were designed. I mean, Steve, you can look at a man and woman naked, watch them have sex and realize quickly, biologically speaking, men and women are designed to be in partnership together. We're not designed to be enemies. So where did this all come from? How did we get to this place?

Steve Williams (23:36.514)

Mm-hmm.

Steve Williams (23:56.088)

Well, we got to this place once. think we got to this place where there, again, the internet, the problem with the internet, especially YouTube, is unfortunately there are more losers in the world than winners. And YouTube gave access to individuals to complain to people who love to complain more than solve things. So it's more complaining. It's more, that's where the connection is because you know nobody understands me so then hey look there's a guy I, I understand you it's not it's not it's not your fault it's it's her fault that you're not authentic. It's not your fault that you're not decisive it's her fault that you're not decisive it's her fault that you're not dominant it's her fault it's her fault and and then what a lot of young men do is they they like you say they'll cling on to the cult leader that draws them in and says, guess what? This is what we're going to do. We're going to take away your name. We're going to take away your bloodline. We're going to take away your legacy. And we're going to say, follow me, because I know what I'm talking about, because I understand you. But we're going to sit around and have a circle jerk of complaining about women and then getting mad at women, being incels, blaming women, getting angry and bitter. But yet you want women. But then here's the problem. OK, you go to YouTube, Scot, you listen to all that bad stuff, like you say, the guys complaining with you, those guys too, Scot, they see again, woman, don't even, Susie, whatever her name is, they see a woman, Sally, whatever. And then here's the second, well, how do I talk to her? Because the person is so busy complaining about her, he never told me how to communicate, how to make her smile, how to make her laugh, how to make her blush, think, react, how to attract her to me without looking at my money, without looking at my clothes, without looking at my status, without looking who I am. But then guess what? So that's the key of the cult. So then he gets frustrated because he loses the girl. Then he goes back to the cult leader and says, see, I told you women are bad. So it's just a constant circle of using these poor young men for a bad, I won't say a greater good, a worse good, a very bad bad, not a worse good.

Scot McKay (26:17.352)

Yeah. You know what? And, uh, all the people out there who are happy living their best life aren't, aren't here for the complaining. They have nothing to complain about. They're not grabbing the mic. They're out there. They got, they got something else better to do. You know, they're out there actually succeeding with women. So those are the people out there winning with women. And, yet you have a lot of guys that are lost caught in the lurch here. They really are thinking to themselves, you know, I know better. I know I'm not supposed

Steve Williams (26:31.533)

Yes.

Steve Williams (26:40.301)

Yeah.

Scot McKay (26:46.29)

to feel bitter and angry towards women. I don't like how it feels. I'm not, I'm not this guy, but I'm still left with nothing. You know, let's talk about, you know, the toxic masculinity bit. You don't hear about toxic masculinity much anymore because I think men finally rebelled against it. But the problem is still, what are we going to replace something toxic with? We were basically just told, sit down, shut up, stay in your lane. Well, what does that even mean?

Become more like women, let the women take over. Cause what happens is if you let women hijack masculinity from us, wait for it. They're not going to respect you and be attracted to you while they're trying to be the masculine one. Cause masculinity is what attracts femininity. If you're just like a neuter, like a mushroom over there, how can you expect to get anywhere with women? So guys are, are saying, wait a minute. I don't think I'm this terrible guy. I want to provide and protect and I want to be a man. I want to lead, but I just don't know how.

No one's offering me that information. You talked about how they get, they got, they've got you so that you're not going to get married. You're not going to pass on your name. You're not going to have any kids. You know, there's pressure on the birth rate, but I, I'm really amazed by what you said, cause I never stopped to think that the so-called gurus are part of this whole problem. They're not part of the solution anymore.

You and I are out there trying to save families, help men have a legacy, have a son to throw a football to. That's real talk, man. That's life. The rest of these guys, you know, all I was going say is the rest of these guys are going to get to be 70, 80 years old and wonder what happened. Life passed me by.

Steve Williams (28:16.366)

Yeah. Yes. Yes. Yes. I'm sorry. Please. Please continue. I'm sorry.

Steve Williams (28:33.387)

Yeah, I always

Yeah, I always say, Scot, a lot of these guys, their Titanic's heading towards iceberg called midlife crisis. And what they don't understand is that a lot of these guys are like... Again, back in the day when we were doing our thing back in the day. They were that age. And right now they're going through what these young men are going to go through if they don't get to the right person and teaching the right information. See, Scot, I was never here to tell a woman to get married, not tell a guy to get married or not to get married.

because it's not my place... I have no right to tell a guy what to do. All I can do is give him the tools so he can think for himself. And that's the one thing that, right, that's the one thing you and I do... that you.

Scot McKay (29:14.714)

you bet.

Life in general.

Steve Williams (29:18.966)

Right, right. That's the thing that a lot of young men don't understand. You can't think... I always... And that's why I always go to the fingerprint, because that's our marker to say there's nobody out there like me. But my whole thing is, if, okay, if your fingerprint defines you, my whole thing is then...

Why don't you learn your language? I mean, why don't you learn who you are in this this bubble called the Internet called women are bad, hypergamous monkey branching, and all that BS that they spew on you and realize that listen. yeah, it's bad because these young men, they want they want somebody to follow,

Scot McKay (29:52.774)

I don't even know half of these terms. don't dig that deep. I just avoid it. Yeah. my God.

Steve Williams (30:03.918)

but they've never been told it's okay to follow yourself by believing in yourself. But you can't believe in yourself if you believe that I, like, you know, what was it? Chicken Little that, you know, the sky is falling mentality that, oh my God, I go ahead and say, some of these guys think if I meet a woman, I have to worry about family court. I'm like, what the, wait, what? Wait a second, wait, what do you mean family court? Well, if... I meet a woman... yeah, you haven't even asked her, you're right.

Scot McKay (30:27.976)

You haven't even asked her out yet. You're already getting divorced and losing your entire fortune.

Steve Williams (30:31.822)

You're going to lose your fortune money. But here's the thing. Most people live paycheck to paycheck. So what do you actually losing? See, that's the thing they don't understand. See these young men out here. It's OK. So a lot of people, again YouTube. What they want to do is they want a higher lifestyle. They want to get, they want to have all the women around them. They got the big yacht, they hired the airplane, they hired the cars. It was no different for you and I in the eighties when rap came around. That's what they would do. They would hire the, the mansions, the clothes and the models and everything and the jewelry, which was fake sometimes, but we thought it was real, but we were kids then. You see we were kids, but these are grown men today believing that women actually have a say so in masculinity. They don't when you're a man. If you're not a man, she is going to run you. But here's the problem. That's the setup for the downfall, Scot. See, every see what you and I do is we open their eyes because they're still sleeping because they'll... You remember Scot? They'll look they'll look at somebody. They'll look at their subscriber count first. They'll be like, wow, he's got a lot of he's got a lot of followers. So I'll follow him.

But what information we watching? We watching a lot of people get around a bunch of women, Scot, and do what? Yell at women. For what? Like, what purpose does it serve to have a bunch of women talking men topics, listening to women, and then yelling at them and kicking them off the stage to make someone feel better about themselves? We're in.

Scot McKay (32:02.876)

Doesn't make much sense. All it does is once again, it feeds the disease. And you were talking about back in the days of rap, man, how far have we come from like 1980 when The Sugar Hill Gang and Grandmaster Flash were bragging about having their own transportation. You don't have to ride the bus. Then, you know, seven, seven years later, you got Kool Moe Dee standing in front of his Jeep. We, we, They couldn't afford the Ferraris and the Lambos yet, you know, but by the time Snoop Dogg came rolling around, okay. Then we're making real money in that market.

Steve Williams (32:04.354)

No.

Steve Williams (32:14.452)

Yeah, I'm ready.

Steve Williams (32:23.564)

Yes, yes, yes.

No.

Yeah. yeah. Absolutely.

Scot McKay (32:32.838)

Yeah, it's funny. It's funny to go listen to that stuff.

Men used to have a hard time slut shaming women. Women didn't want to be slut shamed. They honored their sexuality and that made kind of that made the dance special. made sex not something as gratuitous. If you were dealing with women who were, you know, good women, I mean, you know, you could say, all right, well, everybody's got a right to a sex life and I can, I could get with that. But one thing you said earlier was guys see women who, who dress like sluts and think, she's the sexual one.

Steve Williams (32:46.147)

Yes.

Scot McKay (33:08.358)

So I have to go to a strip club to find a woman who will have sex with me. You know, meanwhile, it's the soccer mommies out there who are pent up and horny. They just want to be respected and appreciated. And a guy come actually care about who they are. And the next thing you know, you'll have all the sex you could ever handle with actually a decent respectable woman. But guys don't even, that seems like such a quaint notion nowadays to even consider that because

Steve Williams (33:26.253)

Mm-hmm.

Scot McKay (33:38.185)

now you have women with OnlyFans accounts because the money is easy and the women themselves have gotten over the whole slut shaming thing because you know, just overwhelm. I mean, hey look, you know what? I'm to tell myself it's okay to be slutty nowadays. I could be a sex worker. I could, I could be a porn girl because my goodness, look at the money I'm making if I'm hot. And then they wonder why the guys don't respect them. Why the guys are more sex focused than ever.

Uh, you have women who have OnlyFans pages and guys will hit up on them and they'll say, well, here, know, prove you prove to me, you want to date by paying $30 for my, my OnlyFans account. And if you like what you see after that, then, then let me know if you still want to date me. I mean, what has this world come to? That is not the premise for a relationship. And some guys are out there going, no... No, get off your couch, get off your DoorDash, go out in the real world, start meeting women and you're going to see.

Not only are there a lot of women who genuinely still want a real man. And if you show up for them, they'll be, they'll, you know, things will be great. You'll be amazed at how precious and adorable women actually are compared to the rumors you've heard, but you'll also see how messed up this is for women and for men. Women have their own set of issues. They're going to have to recover from with post-modernity just like we are. You know, how do we get back? How do we get that message out there? How do we, I mean,

Steve Williams (34:58.818)

Yeah.

holy wiki

Scot McKay (35:04.588)

is there something new school that we've got to go get that's going to fix this or is the old school going to be the new school? What's the solution? Cause I don't want to be another little bitch talking about problems. want to give these guys solutions, man.

Steve Williams (35:12.312)

Wavu? No, no, no, no,

I always, I look at everything as realities. Okay. So I've always told guys and I always teach them, okay, the reality that they're in right now, if we look at realities as bubbles, let's say the first reality, always tell everybody the first reality we're in that you and I are in that we broke free of, but the first reality is built on education. Okay. As we come into this world, we're indoctrinated by our parents, our teachers and our pastors. They, they teach us how to read, write, spell, do math, be a good person to what? Learn how to what? Pay our bills. That's it. That is all the endow- because remember, we're being told how to think. We're told when to go to bed. We're told what we have to eat. We're told what have to wear. If you get in trouble, they take your phone away. If you're older. So that reality was based on just paying your bills. That was the one I'll call the first reality because that's why, you know, you learn your religion from your parents. You learn your manners from your parents, and you learn studies from your parents by how well they follow you around and doing your work. So that, I call that the first reality, the first bubble. But in that bubble, does not teach you how to think for yourself because it's an indoctrination. So it's a place where you know women are our greatest consumers. So if women are our greatest consumers in that reality, they're gonna make it about women. So a lot of young men are still stuck in what I call reality number one. You and I are free thinkers. Now a free thinker creates his own reality. So we are separate from that. You were talking about earlier how a lot of guys are getting mad at you for what you were saying.

Steve Williams (36:54.32)

Because they're supposed to. Because if you're if you're a free thinker outside of the bubble in a reality of free thinking one who is always indoctrinated is a gonna follow indoctrination that's where the YouTubes, the IG Instagrams, and the TikToks come in where these young men think that's the that's the world they think that there's no world outside of TikTok, Instagram and IG.

But when you're a free thinker, what we try to do is we try to pull these young men outside of that. Like you're saying, go outside your door. That's his own reality. But young men don't understand realities because they think that the reality that they're in is there forever. So they are indoctrinated, but then they take their past. They take their parents. They take their sadness and all this other stuff. And then they form a fact. Now, it's a fact. It's not a truth. It's a fact. But Sometimes they'll label those facts truth, but then they'll look for sources to reinforce the facts in that bubble. And that's why they constantly are looking for the next best thing. They're looking for the next best gimmick. They're looking for the next best lie because they don't understand free thinking. And that's where you and I come in at. We can't save them all, Scot, but we can only save the ones that actually want to break free and realize that yes, guess what women are allowed to be what they want to be. That I can't stop a woman nor can you stop her. We can't tell a woman what to do, and look, some women don't even listen to their fathers. So why would they listen to us? But when a woman notices your masculinity, okay, as a free thinker, that's where masculinity, authenticity, dominance, and what we call one of one outside of that is that's what women will follow because that's woven into the DNA. That's woven into, goes beyond, you know, my looks, status, money, clothes, and all that other stuff. It is something that says that, you know what, this man is a dominant man and he's bringing me into my femininity,

not into masculinity. If you look at reality one, women are on top because that's how the world is working. That's why you have to buy the flowers, the trinkets and all that other stuff or the expensive meals in that reality. But as I said before, Scot, when you become a free thinker and you learn, when we teach, it is at that point they'll realize that aw man, because Scot I'm sure... How many people? I get them all the time man. I'm so pissed I used to be red pill I used to be in the manosphere, but you know what I found you and all this time I couldn't believe it you mean to tell me that all this time these people were lying to me women are not bad. The world is not bad It's just that I thought it was bad because I was treated bad and I really had nowhere else to go man.

Scot McKay (39:51.825)

And they found someone who agreed with them and they were off to the races with their bad thinking. Meanwhile, Steve, what are we doing? We're just sitting around here making sense. Go figure, you know, a lot of this stuff doesn't even make any sense. But we do. Yeah. And it's because we know who the hell we are. We figured this out. We know what works and what doesn't. And you know what? What has happened? Here we are 20 years, you know, into podcasting or more.

Steve Williams (39:56.161)

Yes.

Steve Williams (40:00.792)

Yeah, always.

Can't. Yeah. Yeah.

Steve Williams (40:13.858)

Yes.

Scot McKay (40:20.902)

And we've been consistent. You got guys out there who've completely changed their mindset on things because the, whatever the global big story out there right now is changed. So they changed with it. Hey man, you talk about facts versus truth, you know, sounds like Joe Biden.

Steve Williams (40:22.99)

consistently consistent.

Scot McKay (40:43.398)

What is true? It doesn't even matter to people anymore. It's just how do I get what I want? And if what I want is to be miserable, or if it's what I've told myself to be is to be miserable, then I'm gonna tell myself that's what I want. Meanwhile, you have Ivy league institutions completely abandoning critical thinking, punishing people for thinking critically. It's amazing. No, you're right on. Hey, this is an amazing conversation. We should do this more often.

Steve Williams (40:48.429)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (41:04.034)

Yeah, yeah. Right, free thinkers.

Scot McKay (41:13.124)

One place you always have this conversation, week in, week out is at The Man Mindset over on YouTube. Tell these guys a little bit about your show if they haven't caught up with you lately, Steve.

Steve Williams (41:19.554)

Yes.

Steve Williams (41:23.746)

Yeah, Well, well, OK. So, you know, again, we started MP3.com... Well, I mean, even before that we were just doing, putting stuff out. So, you know, we've been doing I've been doing this since the 90... way before the 90s. I'm doing this a long time. But yeah, so we we have a show now. You know we do several things. We do videos. We do YouTubes and we go live. We have a live live call in show. So but we cover everything under the sun that deals with men.

But really what deals with you in the world of women. We don't make the game or anything about women. My job is to show you how to become a free thinker, how to think for yourself, how to love yourself, how to appreciate yourself and realize that you have to be careful about who you listen to because everything out there that's on the internet is not good for you. But I'm not here to, I always say I'm your uncle. Well you know, we OGs. So they call me "Unc" now. Yeah, I'm uncle right now. I can't be your dad. Right. I can't be your dad.

Scot McKay (42:15.272)

Yeah, me too. My 14 year old daughter is my daughter and she still calls me "Unc". I go, no, I'm not, I'm not your father's brother. am one. I'm not that I'm I'm not once removed from your father. I am him, you know.

Steve Williams (42:21.984)

Yeah, yeah.

Steve Williams (42:30.06)

Yeah, I mean, Yeah, so I'm everybody's uncle. But the thing is, is that we we we help men with everything. I don't it doesn't matter. It's under the sun because you and... Like Scot, you and I have been through it all. So it's relationship, marriage, breakups, women, sex, understanding, talking to women, how to live with women, how to move around women, how to it's everything under the sun. But one thing it is is always about you learning who you are at the end of the day and not making it about anybody else but you.

Scot McKay (42:32.871)

Yeah.

Steve Williams (43:00.16)

And to free your mind and have you think for yourself. That's the main thing. Scot, we've always been like that. And again, the days will change, the weeks will change, the months will change. But when you're authentic, we're going to continue to keep doing what we're doing. That's it.

Scot McKay (43:16.136)

Yeah, man, just Just a couple of months ago, I finally plugged in my brain and realized my album art should be more about what this show's about. Better men get better women. You know, masculinity attracts femininity. If you don't know what masculinity even is, how are you going to attract a woman, man? And if you're not a better man, what business do you have wanting a better woman? Yeah. So you're right on, man. You're right on.

Steve Williams (43:22.35)
Yes.

Steve Williams (43:37.273)
It's not even attracting but what are you gonna do to keep to move forward because at the... Right, not only have some choice but at the end of the day gentlemen, you have to think about legacy. Bloodline. And you've got to think about... Listen, the one thing I always say Scot you guys out there better be glad that your parents didn't have YouTube back in the day because you might not be here because the way the way they're talking right now

Scot McKay (43:42.662)
Have some choice.

Scot McKay (44:02.777)
Facts right there, yeah. And truth.

Steve Williams (44:06.038)
Right there. They're trying to take away. That's your birthright you you you... Hey Scot, you know we we get to live on and the the the sad day when we leave this planet, we get to live on through our birth... our children and that's what we're trying to tell you young men out there. You are your ancestry. Don't cut your ancestry off because somebody on YouTube tells you that you can go to family court, lose all your rights and all the other stuff. That's the thing Scot...

It just, just, just, it's sad. Yeah. Yeah. Not at all,

Scot McKay (44:37.352)
Fear men aren't supposed to be pussies. We're not supposed to be so afraid. We're supposed to be bold. We're supposed to go after what we really want instead of pushing it down and trying to pretend we don't and finding a bunch of other guys who are in a sad state like us who will agree with us and make us feel better. It's like junk food, man. And what we're doing is we're handing over the meat and potatoes. Legacy.

Steve Williams (44:46.637)
Yes, sir.

Steve Williams (44:54.7)
Yes. yeah.

Yeah, hard, Yeah, hard. Yeah, but it's legacy bloodline, but it's tough love. It's not sunshine and rainbows. It's because if you think about it, Scot, real quick.

Scot McKay (45:04.379)
No.

Steve Williams (45:06.998)
A lot these young men are in the Grand Canyon. And I need you all to understand this. You can't be a doctor in a day. Scot can't teach you and I can't teach you to be a doctor today. So it's a process. The process is we've got to fill that hole the size of the Grand Canyon of all the bad information to get you to unlearn what you have learned to begin the process of learning. So Scot, it's a process. I know a lot of people want quick fixes, but that's how it works. And I've always been honest. And you have too, Scot. So many young men have buried themselves in such a deep hole that you have got to unlearn all that stuff to learn, man.

Scot McKay (45:45.255)

Yeah, man. Hey, we talk about legacy around here too, but we're... we tread lightly because so many guys are like, legacy? You know, like they're Jim Mora. Playoffs? Playoffs? You know, I don't even have a girlfriend yet. I don't even know how to say hello to a woman. And you're talking about having a son and growing old together and making the world a better place together and being a team? I mean, that is like a bunch of chess moves away.

And that's that's sad because that used to be baked into our upbringing. That used to be what fathers pass down to their sons. And, you know, first of all, not only do we need to be masculine men who are, who are legacy thinkers thinking like that to attract a woman who will be a teammate, a partner with us, like you and I found. I mean, gentlemen, don't listen to anybody who can't walk the talk. Don't listen to nobody without a track record, you know.

Steve Williams (46:18.136)

Yes.

Steve Williams (46:27.437)

Yes.

Steve Williams (46:33.443)

Yes.

Scot McKay (46:40.402)

The first thing you got to say, I'm listening to someone. Do I want to be like them? Cause I've never met a #MGTOG guy who's happy. I've never met a raging feminist woman who's happy. Maybe y'all better look in the mirror and realize how similar y'all are. Right? You want to be, you want to have some fulfillment. You want to have some joy in life. You want to have some meaning to your life. You know, it can't be all about you and, and being selfish and your poor little feelings.

Steve Williams (47:00.492)

Yes.

Scot McKay (47:08.462)

And, and, you know, not getting your way and throwing a tantrum. There's work to be done. And yet the work is extremely fulfilling and we as men, that's what we do. We work, we find value in our work. And if we're sitting home, Cheeto fingered, because we don't even want to have, we don't have any ambition for our own lives. How can we have ambition for some relationship with a woman? Boom. I think that's it, man. You can go to YouTube, the man mindset, the man mindset.

Steve Williams (47:14.306)
